

Adidas AG - Market Analysis & Competitive Landscape 2024

Competitive Positioning Post-Yeezy

Adidas's market share in global athletic footwear declined from 14% in 2021 to 11% in 2023 following the Yeezy termination, but has recovered to 12% in 2024. The company has deliberately pivoted from celebrity/hype-driven demand toward performance and heritage franchises. Samba, Gazelle, and Campus silhouettes drove EUR3.2B in originals revenue (+29% YoY), re-establishing the brand's fashion credibility without single-celebrity dependency.
